Ob under vs. zone (3)

1

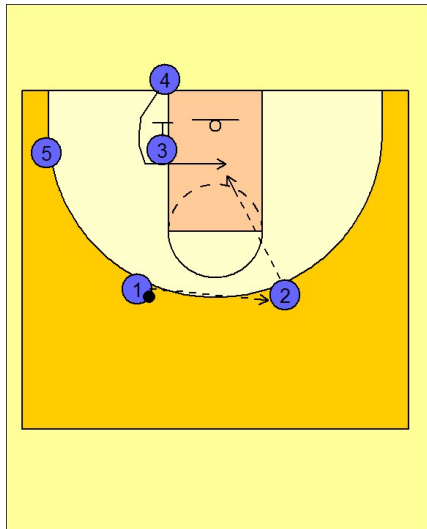

Texas OB Under vs. Zone Defense

#1, #3, and #5 stacked up on the left lane line. #2 is on the opposite lane line near the right elbow.

#5 breaks toward the corner.
 #3 steps toward the ball.
 #1 breaks straight out.
 #2 breaks straight out.

#4 will look to enter the ball to either #5 who will pass it to #1 or #4 will look to pass it straight out to #1 himself.

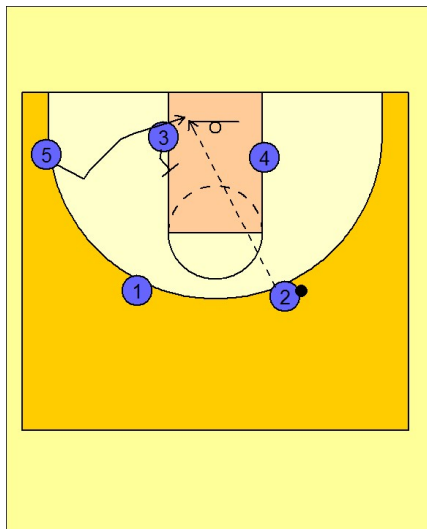

2

Texas OB Under vs. Zone Defense

Once #1 has the ball he will reverse it to #2 on the right wing area. #4 will step in using a screen from #3 and will curl over the top of the screen and into the middle of the lane looking for the post entry pass from #2.

3

Texas OB Under vs. Zone Defense

If #4 is not open, #3 will move in and back screen the low back side defender while #5 sneaks in behind looking for the lob pass to the rim.
